MINUTES OF THE UNIVERSITY SENATE
September 17, 2012

1. The regular meeting of the University Senate September 17, 2012 was called to order by the President of the University, Susan Herbst at 4:04 PM.

2. President Herbst opened the floor for nominations for Moderator of the University Senate for the 2012-2013 academic year. Senator Moiseff nominated Senator Spiggle. The nomination was seconded by Senator Zirakzadeh. Senator Spiggle was elected Moderator of the University Senate for the 2013-2013 academic year. President Herbst yielded the floor to Moderator Spiggle.

3. Moderator Spiggle opened the floor for nominations for Secretary of the University Senate for the 2012-2013 academic year. Senator Hamilton nominated Robert Miller. The nomination was seconded by Katrina Higgins. Robert Miller was elected Secretary of the University Senate for the 2012-2013 academic year.

4. Following custom for the first meeting of an academic term, Moderator Spiggle requested each Senator to rise and introduce themselves and state their department affiliation.

5. Approval of the Minutes

Moderator Spiggle presented the minutes of the meeting of April 23, 2012 for review.

The minutes were approved as written.

6. Report of the President

President Herbst welcomed the Senate to the academic term. She reiterated her goals for the University: academic success and academic achievement. She stated that everything we do should support the attainment of these goals.

President Herbst described progress in the various on-going administrative searches including the search for a permanent University Provost. The search committee for the open Provost is chaired by Cameron Faustman, Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. President Herbst stated that she would like to have an announcement of the new provost by the end of the calendar year. There is also an ongoing search for a Vice President for Research; the search committee for that position is now being formed. President Herbst stated that this important search should “lag” the Provost’s search, so that the new Provost will be in place when the VP for Research is hired.

A search is also in place for a Chief Master Planner and University Architect to undertake the next round of building projects on the campus. The Provost’s Office is also overseeing searches for Deans of Nursing and of Law. President Herbst thanked all who have worked throughout the summer and then entertained questions from Senate members. There were none.

7. Senator Moiseff presented the report of the Senate Executive Committee
8. Moderator Spiggle presented the Consent Agenda

The Senate voted to approve the Consent Agenda reports as presented.

Senator Ogbar first described the genesis of his own, new position and its evolution from the previous conception of a position that had included international affairs as well. He emphasized that the position of Vice Provost for Diversity was central to the current academic plan. Vice Provost Ogbar outlined the necessity for initiatives and strategies to maximize the diversity of applicant pools for our now rapidly expanding faculty. Vice Provost Ogbar is now in the process of staffing his office.

He outlined several of the institutional efforts and committees currently working to increase diversity on campus. He announced that there will be a town hall meeting on October 10th at 4:00PM in the Dodd Center to present new plans, policies and initiatives to the general university population.

He presented statistics concerning the present state of diversity among the faculty and progress made in this area. The Commission on Diversity report from 2002 established a set of five year goals. When Senator Ogbar examined those goals and recent (2010) data from Office of Institutional Research he found that all of those goals have been met and so he now suggests that it would be appropriate to set new and even more ambitious goals.

He went on to describe progress made in increasing diversity among the student body. An improvement in graduation rate is a concern that still exists. Although all our students are now graduating at record rates, when the data are disaggregated Senator Ogbar finds that great disparities exist for African American and Hispanic males. For all groups, men graduate at a lower rate than women. On the other hand, African American women have a four year graduation rate approximating those of white males (within one percent.)

Ogbar announced the launch of a new website, www.diversity.uconn.edu, that provides information and important links. The web site will be expanding throughout the year and the information will be of particular interest to search committees as the university continues is faculty expansion.
Senators raised concerns concerning recruitment and retention of faculty of color and also the administrative “shuffling” concerning moving the international Center from the Student Union to McMahon Hall. Provost Choi answered that the move gave the center more space that is student accessible.

Senator Freake asked that diversity data be assembled for various fields of study, especially STEM programs. Senator Ogbar agreed that better information is needed and described efforts and analyses that are on-going.

10. Moderator Spiggle inquired if there was any new business. There was none.

11. There was a motion to adjourn.

The motion was approved by a standing vote of the Senate.

The meeting adjourned at 4:45 PM.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert Miller

Report of the Senate Executive Committee to the University Senate
September 17, 2012

The Senate Executive Committee welcomes Senators to the beginning of another academic year. We look forward to a year in which we discuss and debate issues with each other and the university’s Senior leadership.

The Senate Executive Committee has met thirteen times since the last meeting of the University Senate on April 23rd. Eleven of these meetings took place over the summer and included meetings Suzanne O’Connor, Counsel to the UConn Foundation, External Reviewers who were studying the operation and needs of the University IT enterprise, each of the candidates for the Vice Provost for Diversity position, and each of the four candidates for the Vice Provost for International Affairs. On August 27 the SEC met to begin coordinating this year’s Senate activities.

On September 7 the Senate Executive Committee met in closed session with President Herbst. Afterwards it met with the Chairs of the Standing Committees to plan for the agenda of this meeting and to coordinate the activities between the committees. There are a variety of issues that are now pending in committee. These include the University Budget Committee’s continued monitoring of tuition on grants; the status of the change to the bylaws concerning mandatory teaching evaluations; how the stopped tenure clock affects faculty taking time due to the Family Medical Leave Act; a post-review of the bunched final exams and assessments; and an update on the recently reorganized Building and Grounds Committee.

On September 14, the Senate Executive Committee met in closed session with Interim Provost Choi. Afterwards we met with Richard Gray, Wayne Locust, Mun Choi, Suman Singha, and John Saddlemire. The Senate Executive Committee heard brief updates on the status of Kuali, the increasing of faculty travel awards including an increase in the allowance for food and lodging, the status of the search for a Director of Research Development. The SEC was informed that move-in at the beginning of the semester went smoothly and that the incoming class at Storrs in settling in at 3,114 - that from approximately 30,000 applications. The SEC appreciates the continued open dialog between the Senate and the Administrators. Provost Choi commented about the success of the UConn/Jackson Lab symposium that was held in the Student Union Theater at Storrs. There were approximately 400 participants representing faculty from Storrs, UCHC, and Jackson Labs.

The Senate Executive Committee is grateful to Senator Susan Spiggle for serving as Moderator of the Senate this academic year and to Robert Miller for serving as Secretary.

Respectfully submitted,
Andrew Moiseff

B.Guests and Topics

1. Coordination with the Provost’s Committee on Institutional Diversity.

2. Equitable hiring Practices. On October 17 the Committee met with Professor Mikki Hebl, Department of Psychology, Rice University to learn about her research on equitable hiring practices and discrimination in the workplace. Dr. Hebl was on campus for the day at the invitation of the Provost’s Commission on Institutional Diversity.

3. Minority and International Undergraduate Enrollment and Recruiting Strategies. On November 14 the Committee met with Nathan Fuerst, the new director of admissions, for an update on fall minority and international enrollments and to discuss minority and international enrollment challenges, strategies, and goals. Nathan provided the committee with the Freshman Storrs Minority Trend Report 2001-2011. The committee noted that it would like to see regional campus data as well.

4. Support for GLBT Students. The Committee met with Fleurette King, Director of the Rainbow Center, on December 12. The committee learned that twelve years ago UConn was rated as the most homophobic campus in the region, but that today UConn ranks among the top 100 in the nation as a GBLT friendly campus. An issue currently of concern at the Rainbow Center is how the Center can collect gender identity information on in-coming students in order to better support the GLBT population.

5. Support for Asian American Students. The Committee met with Angela Rola, Director of the Asian American Cultural Center, on December 12. The Committee learned about the diversity of Asian American populations who have differing cultures and needs, the on-going importance of addressing campus climate issues post 9-11, the usefulness of cultural competency seminars for faculty to better understand their students, and the importance of increasing the number of Asian/Asian American faculty in the Humanities and Social Sciences and number of Asian/Asian American staff in admissions, advising, mental health services, and career services.

6. Recruitment and Support for Graduate Students of Color. On January 18, the Committee met with Dr. Lee A. Aggison, Special Assistant to the Provost and former Interim Vice Provost for Graduate Education and Dean of the Graduate School. The Committee learned about UConn’s past strategies and initiatives for recruiting minority graduate students and about opportunities for improvement in this area.

7. Support for Students with Disabilities. The Committee met with Donna Korbel, Director for the Center for Students with Disabilities, on January 18. The Committee learned that the Huffington Post identified UConn as a top 10 disability friendly campus and that UConn’s program is in the top 25 in the nation according to GAO benchmarking standards. The committee learned about the shifting demographics of students with disabilities and importance of including accommodation information on course syllabi.
8. Recruitment and Support for Native American Students and those from other Indigenous Peoples. On February 15 the Committee with Colin Neary, a member of the USG Diversity and Multiculturalism Committee, who is circulating a petition for the establishment of a Native American Cultural Center and an Institute for Native American and Indigenous Peoples’ Studies. The Committee discussed prospects for recruiting more Native American students and developing a Native American Cultural Center.

9. Recruitment and Support for African American Students. The Committee met with Dr. Willena K. Price, Director of the African American Cultural Center and Adjunct Professor, on March 7. Dr. Price provided the Committee with an overview of support services and community outreach activities of the Center.

10. Academic Affairs and Diversity. The Committee met on April 11 with Interim Vice Provost Sally Reis to learn more about current and prospective actions for advancing Diversity in Academic Affairs. All present recognized the significance of the opportunity provided by the projected 290 or so new faculty hires over the next three to four years.

Future Agendas: The members of the Diversity Committee look forward to meeting with the new Vice Provost for Diversity and working with that individual in formulating and promoting campus-wide diversity initiatives. The Diversity Committee also plans to review the 2002 Diversity Taskforce Report to determine which, if any, of the Taskforce Report recommendations the Committee should work on advancing.
